Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

Remember back when you were a kid and you would steal in and get in your mother and daddy's bed after they got up, or even before.

There was something about the bed that was softer and warmer than your own, and once in and snuggled down in the cover you acquired an elation that is difficult to approach now.

Your sense of well being and security reached new heights.

This thought came to mind this morning and many another, when we looked around and saw three of the smallest lined up in our bed with the cover pulled up around their ears.

You might get an impulse to tell them to get out because they might get the sheets dirty, or pulled crossways, but you may as well forget it, because they are enjoying something they will remember from now on.

If you make them get out, you are robbing them of something that adds to their childhood.

Our Halloween gag failed to click at home the other night.

Got a couple of the big rubber toes at Everett's store that you stick on your own big toes. We thought it would be a pretty good gag on the kids to walk out barefooted with the two false big toes on.

It backfired. Almost scared the youngest to death.

Took about an hour to get him to even touch the toes. We found that it wasn't the toes that scared him so much as it was our pulling them off. He thought that we had pulled off a toe.

Guess we had better leave the Halloween antics up to the kids.

Today is part of United Nations Week, and National Bible Week. It is also St. John's Day, when the swallows leave the San Juan Capistrano in Mission, California.

On this date last year: Mayor Vincent Impellitteri of New York returned to the United States after a 34-day good-will tour of Israel and Italy. And the deposed ruler of Burma was reported to have left India after agreeing to a government demand that he turn over 41 million dollars worth of property to his son.

On this date in history: Forest fires destroyed a large part of Bar Harbor, Maine, and several other communities, causing damage estimated at 30 million dollars in 1937. James C. Dwyer, a pioneer statesman was born in 1817. And the most important human rights convention held to that time, opened in Worcester, Massachusetts in 1850.

Thoroughbreds To Journey To Missouri For Tilt Saturday

Coach Fred Faurot reports his team in good condition after the Evansville game. The Thoroughbreds went into that contest with tackle Gene Mueller limping and end Billy Mac Bone hobbling, both with bad legs. Freshman end Tommy Milton of Owensboro was the third Thoroughbred on the ailing list.

Only Frank Edmonds, freshman center from Brownsville, Tennessee was injured against Evansville. He came out of the game with a bad back that may sideline him for this week's game with Delta.

According to Faurot, the Thoroughbreds are coming along in much the manner he expected at the beginning of the season. Weak in reserves at the start of the schedule, Faurot has been compelled to call on his freshmen for aid in all games.

These freshmen, at times five of them in the lineup on the field have performed much to the satisfaction of Faurot, but he points out that they are playing their first college competition and it will take time to develop their full potential.

Faurot is also well pleased with the way in which his defense is strengthening in their opening games. On November 14, the east area Thoroughbreds revealed the weakest defensive club Faurot has fielded in his four previous years at Murray State.

With each game the defense has improved until now Faurot can hold there while he devotes most of his time to improving his offense.

Outstanding in the Murray line has been tackle John Roberts, 205-pounder from Johnson, Tennessee. At the rate he is going now, Faurot compares him favorably with some of the past great Murray tacklers who made Thoroughbred lines the best in small college competition.

Faurot also points with pride to the performance of his fleet left halfback Johnny Bohna, 165-pounder from Brownsville, Pennsylvania. Against Evansville, he kept the overflow homecoming crowd on its feet every time he ran back a punt in the finest display of open-field running seen in Cutchin stadium since Phil Foster gathered in a kick behind his own goal line and raced 102 yards for a touchdown in 1950 season.

The series with Delta State, an off and on affair since 1930, shows Murray ahead with three wins to none for the Greentons and two ties, a 0-0 deadlock in 1941 and a 12-12 score in 1951. Murray victories were in 1930 (26-6), 1940 (41-0) and last year 33-0.

On the ground the Thoroughbreds trail their opponents 484 yards to 710 and lag in total offense 903 to 1043. These figures include games with Tennessee Tech, Eastern Kentucky, Memphis State and Evansville.

The Methodist ministers of the Memphis Conference will leave on Friday for central and east Kentucky to participate in the Methodist Area-Wide Revival. The Memphis, Louisville and Kentucky Conferences are uniting for this evangelistic effort. Some 1400 churches are participating. The area, composed of the three conferences, will be cut in two, being known as the east area and the west area. The first phase of the revival will begin on October 21, when the west area will go east to help the workers in that area. On November 14, the east area will come west to help here. Every church will conduct preaching and visitation evangelism during this time.

The local Methodist ministers will go to the Campbellsville District in the Louisville Conference. Ministers going to this section are Rev. H. P. Blankenship, Smithmier and Rev. Paul T. Lykes. These men will return for services on November 1.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kuykendall and daughter Deborah, are visiting relatives in Detroit, Mich.

Lack Of Replacements Cause Of Longer GI Tours In Korea

Informed sources in Tokyo have offered a new background on the question of rotating American combat troops.

They say that the defense department has failed to supply the replacements needed to make possible the shorter combat tours requested by the department earlier this week. Because of this, these well-qualified informants say that the front-line GI's may have to serve longer than Clark would like. They say Clark asked for replacements months ago.

It will be necessary, according to these reports, to shift men from the front lines from service units and other rear area organizations.

Another UN commander, General James Van Fleet of the 8th army told United Press that it would be impossible to have South Korean troops man the front lines on their own. Van Fleet's words are counter to General Eisenhower's recent proposal to pull American troops out of the front lines and replace them with South Korean troops.

In the ground fighting today, South Korean troops have fought their way to the top of White Horse mountain in central Korea. And allied fliers are having a busy day also. American Sabrejets shot down one Communist MIG and other allied planes have bombed a series of Communist supply and troop targets.

British Bomb Exploded Inside Ship

By United Press

One of the most eloquent voices of this century was raised today in Britain's House of Commons.

Parliament hung on every word, not so much because of the eloquence, but because of the topic. It was a report on the explosion of Britain's first atomic bomb.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill told a hushed audience that the bomb "behaved as expected and forecast in many precise details." Then he described the blast, taking care to avoid any secret details.

The bomb was touched off on October 3rd at the Monte Bello Islands some 50 miles off the northwest coast of Australia. Churchill said the bomb was exploded inside her Majesty's ship "Plym" a 1450-ton frigate.

The Prime Minister reported that the ship was nearly completely vaporized in temperatures of up to one-million degrees.

The bomb was touched off to learn what would happen in a harbor in such an explosion.

Said Churchill: "Thousands of tons of water and mud and rock from the sea bottom were thrown many thousands of feet into the air and high tidal wave was caused."

The Prime Minister said "red hot fragments" of the ship "were scattered over one of the islands and started fires in the dry vegetation."

But he explained that no one was hurt and that great care was taken to prevent danger to the Australian mainland from radioactive activity.

Churchill added that no animals were used as guinea pigs but that instruments recorded all the data of the test.

After the report, House members asked Churchill whether the full details of the test would be given to the United States. The Prime Minister parried the questions with the reply that he believed Britain's first atomic test will lead to greater atomic cooperation between the two nations.

Truman Dodging Main Issues Is Cooper's Charge

By United Press

Republican John Sherman Cooper, candidate for the US Senate, says that the Truman administration and its nominees are avoiding the real issues of "corruption and inflation and foreign policy failure" in the current campaign.

Cooper denies that it is the Republicans as Democrats have charged, who are diverting the minds of people by false issues.

He spoke in Owensboro last night but earlier appeared with his opponent, Senator Thomas R. Underwood, Lexington Democrat, before some 250 members of the women's clubs of Louisville.

Underwood said that if government is entrusted to the Republicans for the next four years, the people can expect a sharp swing toward isolationism and depression.

Cooper asserts that the Democrats are not in a position to give the nation positive leadership because of past failures.

John M. Robinson, Jr. a Republican, and county judge Boman T. Shamburger, a Democrat, appeared with the senatorial candidates in Louisville. Robinson and Shamburger are candidates for representative from the third district.

Too Much Education?

We heard a speaker say over the radio that all of the world's troubles of the past two decades have been caused by the people who were "educated far beyond their intelligence."

It was the kind of statement that sticks in one's mind because it is true, also because it refutes so much common-place thinking, especially about modern isms, such as Communism, or Socialism.

We have had the idea expounded so long that Communism breeds on poverty that we believe it. The exact opposite is true of Communism and Socialism.

England was enjoying her greatest prosperity when the Fabian Socialists made their greatest strides. Already in control when the war started, they had sense enough to step aside so the conservatives could bear all the responsibility for the collapse that was the only way for Clement Attlee to introduce his "austerity program," another way of describing starvation.

The reason we have poured more than nine billions of dollars into England since 1945 was to save Socialism, and prevent the next and final step—Communism.

We can wonder until dooms day what caused England to adopt Socialism, but the radio speaker gave it in a very few words: too many Englishmen of influence, such as George Bernard Shaw, were educated far beyond their intelligence. Her colleges were full of them, as ours are today. They are folks who are too "smart" to work for a living, want what work will bring and formulate plans, such as Socialism and Communism, to get it.

When the FBI goes searching for Communists it doesn't look for them in the slums of cities, nor on tenant farms of the South. It looks for and finds them in our colleges, in our government agencies, even in the State and Justice Department, and the like.

It finds more of them in labor unions, but never among workers. These folks, whether they live in the United States or Russia, are far too "smart" to work. When they infiltrate labor unions they are always in top positions. They live off the labors of others.

Instead of being something new, both Socialism and Communism are the oldest forms of Imperialism, so far as the ruling classes are concerned. They come into power through the suffrage of the people, then become their masters.

American youth, for the first time in our history, is divided into two classes, just as it was in England for three hundred years. One class is the so-called select group, the other those who are drafted for military service.

In the college group there are millions attending for no reason except to escape military service. They will be educated far beyond their intelligence, and will not want to work for a living. In their ranks we are already discovering Fabian socialists and worse. And in their ranks are the future professional politicians.

This is, in house, a criticism of worthy students in our colleges and universities. We have young people of all races who can take education. We have others who can't. It is a pity that those who are "educated beyond their intelligence" who cause the trouble.

We need never fear the Jackie Robinsons, nor the Joe Louis, among negroes. It is the all-American Paul Robeson, those educated far beyond their intelligence, who hate America and embrace Communism. Or the Alger Hiss and the Walter Chambers, among white people, just to name a few. There are a few men who have educated the very best America has to offer usually men of great talent. That's what makes them dangerous.

A traditional game between Clemson and the University of South Carolina gets this football weekend rolling. It's this football game, South Carolina's Clemson is a one touchdown favorite to win the 50th renewal of the rivalry which this year was ordered to have the game played after the legislature passed a law to have the game played after the Southern Conference for taking part in a bowl game last New Year's Day.

The Cleveland Browns of the National Football League may have to get along without offensive and defensive tackle Derrell Palmer this Sunday against the Washington Redskins. Cleveland officials say Palmer has burst in his hip and may be unable to play.

A bitter fight is expected today when officials of the American Basketball League meet in New York to decide on admitting convicted bribers to the league. John O'Brien, who resigned as president of the league yesterday will conduct the meeting. The fight concerns former Long Island University player Sherman White and former Kentucky stars Alex Grona and Ralph Beard who want to play with the Jersey City team. A fourth player, Bill Spry of Oklahoma team, Spry has been indicted for perjury.

New York Yankee outfielder Mickey Mantle compares his third army physical examination today at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. The 21-year old player was examined for an hour at Oklahoma City yesterday, but officials refused to comment on his status and ordered him to Fort Sill for further examination. Mantle has been "re-interviewed" because of a bone infection in his leg.

Backfield star Bobby Reynolds of Nebraska will see action this weekend against Colorado (10-0) in a shoulder separation suffered last week. Reynolds has been given permission to take part in the game as a place kicker.

Unbeaten Teams Favored By The Experts This Weekend

By United Press
 The men who set football odds have a lot of respect for teams with unbeaten records.

The "Official Minneapolis Line," released in New York today, picks against only one of the unbeaten teams, the Wisconsin Badgers, a 7-point choice over visiting UCLA which is unbeaten.

In other major games, the odds-makers stick close to form. In battles of unbeaten teams California is a 6-point favorite over Southern Cal and Duke is favored by 6 over Virginia.

Unbeaten, United Michigan State is a 21-point favorite to give Penn State its first defeat. And Maryland, another team with a perfect record, also is a 21-point pick over Louisiana State.

Georgia Tech is a 20-point choice to stay unbeaten against Vanderbilt, and unbeaten Holy Cross is 6 over Syracuse.

Unbeaten, another unbeaten team is a heavy favorite to stay that way in a Sunday game against Xavier, Ohio.

Clemson and South Carolina set the weekend going today in a traditional game. Clemson is a 6-point favorite.

In Friday night games Miami of Florida is 6 over Marquette, Fordham is 6 over Boston College and Santa Clara is 13 over Idaho.

In other major Saturday games, Stanford is 13 over Washington, Michigan 14 over Minnesota, Notre Dame 20 over North Carolina, Ohio State 20 over Iowa, Penn 7 over Navy, Texas 10 over Rice, Baylor 7 over Texas A&M and the Indiana-Northwestern is rated a toss-up.

Other odds: In the East Army 6 over Col.

Make Paper Floor Plan For Best Results Of Rearranging Furniture In Your House

By Valerie Vance (UP)

Cutting out paper dolls may seem like child's play to you homemakers. But there's a way to wield the scissors and paper that will make child's play out of a usually heavy household task.

That task is rearranging furniture. The method is using a scaled floor plan with paper cutouts representing the pieces of furniture.

It's a method that professional interior decorators have been using for a long time, one that will save you precious hours, and a morning-after headache.

And it also may eliminate that exasperating circumstance of finding, after strenuous effort, the piano won't fit between the window and the door as you'd planned.

The only equipment you'll need will be a scale ruler, a steel tape or yardstick to take the floor dimensions, and some heavy paper to use for the "cutouts."

First, you take the room dimensions and draw it to scale on a sheet of paper. A scale of one-half inch to a foot usually works out well. And be sure to put in doors, windows, and other openings or projections.

Floor Measurements
Next, take the floor measurement of the pieces of furniture you plan to use. On a second sheet of paper you draw flat shapes to conform with those pieces, rectangles, squares or circles.

Cut them out and start rearranging the furniture on your floor plan. If you're looking for something novel, you might try various furniture groups, a group for games, a group for singing if you have musical members in the family.

If you've decided to invest in a new piece of furniture, figure out via your paperwork where you want to put it and what the best size will be. After all, you don't want your tiny visiting room to be squeezed to death by an out-size divan or a king sized desk.

When you're picking out that new piece, take your floor plan plus cutouts along to the furniture store. The salesman may give you some helpful suggestions or even a new novel approach to your arrangement problems.

While you're juggling your furniture around on paper of course the old principle to remember is "balance."

Balance
It's balance that will make the difference in whether the room is well-balanced, or looks as if it's been "used by the youngsters for a 'hide-and-seek' game."

By "balance" a decorator simply means that you use a sofa on one side of your fireplace, you'll want furniture that takes up just about the same amount of floor space on the other side.

Or if you have a large secretary, desk or breakfast at one end of the room, you'll need a grouping or similar proportion at the other end. Ignore the principle of balance and you may end up with a top-heavy room.

Mrs. Kelso Is Hostess To East Hazel Homemakers

By Valerie Vance (UP)

Mrs. Gloria Kelso was hostess to the East Hazel Homemakers Club Wednesday afternoon, October 15th. Eight members and Mrs. Ernest Kelso and daughter Bobbie were present. Mrs. George Sanders were present. The visitors were welcomed and invited to attend the next meeting with Mrs. Robert Craig in November.

The interesting lesson on Room Combinations was given by Mrs. Glenn Kelso and Mrs. Edd Alton. Members found many important rules in the lesson which will hold indefinitely. So many homes have combinations of floral rugs, floral wallpaper and floral curtains or slip-covers. Rooms with one floral, one strip and remaining areas in solids will be much more attractive and restful.

The devotion and thought were given by Mrs. W. C. Alton. Landscape notes for October were read by Mrs. Harley Craig, who told those present that November was the best time to fertilize lawns and cultivate evergreens and trees.

If some of the many colorful leaves to be found now are dipped in paraffin or clear shellac, they can be kept in good shape for some time or be used in many winter arrangements.

Miss Rowland suggested that each member keep a note book of lesson sheets for future reference through coming years. The lessons will be good indefinitely.

Mrs. Kelso served refreshments and everyone participated in games planned by the recreation leader.

'OPEN AIR GARAGE' IS NEWEST TREND

Porch Doubles as Carport

Two modern trends in home building, each combining economy and good design, are illustrated in the houses pictured above. One is the inclusion under an extended roof line of a porch that is also a carport, an arrangement that eliminates the cost of a garage and adds to the attractiveness of the house. The other is the use of asbestos-cement siding as the exterior finish. Increasingly popular for home construction, asbestos siding is economical in cost, attractive in appearance and completely incombustible. It is roofproof and will last the life of the house without requiring painting. Asbestos siding now is made in many harmonious new colors. The house in the lower picture colored siding is combined with white horizontal siding. The houses, built to sell for around $11,000, are two of 850 in a new Denver, Colo., development.

Hazel PTA Holds Regular Meeting

The Hazel PTA held its second general meeting at the school, Thursday, October 16. Mrs. Wylie Parker, president, presided over the business meeting and introduced Miss Gloria Ashmore, music teacher, who led the group in several songs.

Mrs. Raymond Rayburn reviewed the objectives of the association as set forth by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. Mrs. Homer Charlton then led the group in prayer.

An announcement was made by Mrs. Parker that the Dental Trailer sponsored by the PTA will be at the school on Thursday, October 23, to check and correct by requests any fawns for all underprivileged children in the first and second grades.

A very pleasant and inspirational meeting of the 1st District at Murray High School was reported. Those attending from Hazel were: Mrs. L. J. Hill, Mrs. Brent Langston, Mrs. M. M. Hampton, Mrs. Zack Holmes and Mrs. Paul Dailley.

The program was turned over to Mrs. Carmen Parks who showed two interesting films on the intelligent care and protection of the land upon which we depend for our very lives.

Mrs. Dewey Grogan reported another good increase in membership. The present members and teachers appreciate this growing interest shown by the community.

The students of the seventh grade are also proud of their parents who chalked up a victory of attendance by a slight lead over the eighth grade at this meeting.

The meeting was adjourned with plans to meet again November 20th. Refreshments were served by the third, fourth and fifth grade teachers and mothers.

V-Eight Engine Powers 1953 Dodge Coronet Hardtop

This smartly-styled Dodge Diplomat, a hardtop, is one of the sleek, new models in the 1953 line. It is powered by a new 140-horsepower Red Ram V-Eight engine which develops its high efficiency on regular grades of fuel. A new compactness makes it one of the most maneuverable cars on the road. It is being offered with a choice of four different drives—Gyro-Torque, Gyro-Matic, automatic overdrive or standard. It is now on display in dealers' showrooms.

New Dodge Features Sleek, Low Lines

Complete new styling is an outstanding feature of 1953 Dodge, now on display in dealers' showrooms. This Coronet four-door sedan typifies the new "action" appearance of the entire Dodge line. Coronet models have the new 140-horsepower Red Ram V-Eight engine which develops its high efficiency on regular fuel. Both the Coronet and Meadowbrook series are available in a wide range of bright, new colors and two-tone combinations. The restyled Meadowbrook series retains popular "Get-Away" Six engine.

New Dodge Has 140-hp. V-8 Engine

This new Dodge 140-horsepower Red Ram V-Eight engine is standard equipment in the 1953 Dodge Coronet series. Compact in size and light in weight, this new power plant produces more horsepower per cubic inch of displacement than any other automobile engine in volume production today. The design principles of the Red Ram engine are based on those used in high-output aircraft engines. It develops its high efficiency on regular grades of gasoline despite its high compression ratio of 7.1 to 1. Dodge continues to offer its "Get-Away" Six engine in the Meadowbrook series.

Down Concord Way

Farmers are gathering corn these lovely autumn days and it seems the yield usually is better than was first expected.

Anyway, outdoor people should appreciate just being free to bask in the warm sunshine and enjoy the beauties of autumn while nature is bestowing such myriads of colors on trees and bushes.

The seventh grade learned in science that leaves change their color because the food goes out of them.

Somehow, that idea takes a little of the enjoyment out of autumn for me. When I look at stars on a clear night, I'm childish enough to imagine they are pin holes in the sky, not meteors, which if they chance to fall are molten rock.

And I like to think that the beauties of autumn are God's benediction without being to specific about the hows and whys.

No wonder ignorance is bliss! Who didn't enjoy Christmas better before the mysteries of Santa Claus were explained.

One feels so inadequate when he or she faces the responsibility of teaching teen age boys and girls. There is so much they need to know; not just book knowledge but character building ideas.

Voting time is nearing, and the more we read the horrible accounts of how our boys are suffering, even going crazy during the continuous battles on worthless hills in Korea, the more eager we are to know which presidential candidate will most quickly bring home the ones left to tell the story. We care little which party we vote for. Few know what either party stands for anyway, but we do care about humanity being slaughtered uselessly.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Jordan of the soil conservation office of Marion, Ky., attended the Homecoming game and spent the weekend with Mrs. Jordan's grandmother, Mrs. Emma Nance.

Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Lovins visited their daughter, Wilma, at Louisville Seminary.

Oury Lovins of Detroit, came home Saturday and enjoyed the Poplar Springs singing.

The cool days have encouraged fishermen to try their luck again. Saturday to proudly weigh his largest bass of five and one-quarter pounds.

Richard Self who is a junior at the college went home, Thursday afternoon to find that fire had left him, his wife and two children homeless. Only the wife and five year old boy were at home, as the little third grade girl was in Concord school.

At present the family is trying to live in a one room outbuilding on the place, managing with what ever neighbors can spare them.
